

Dr. Stellabotte received his undergraduate degree in Physical Therapy from Temple University in 1982. His M.D. was awarded from Hahnemann University School of Medicine in 1996. He completed his Internal Medicine Residency with a concentration on Primary Care Sports Medicine at Lankenau Hospital, Jefferson Health System in 1999. Additionally, Dr. Stellabotte completed a Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellowship at Providence Hospital and Medical Center in Southfield, MI., in 2000.

He is Board Certified in Internal Medicine, with a CAQ in Sports Medicine. Additionally he continues to be a presenter and lecturer for the Crozer-Keystone Health System. His professional affiliations include: The American College of Physicians-American Society of Internal Medicine; The American Medical Society of Sports Medicine; and the American College of Sports Medicine.

Dr. Stellabotte specializes in non-operative orthopedic sports medicine with a particular interest in the treatment and prevention of adolescence related injuries. He is currently the team physician for Haverford High School and St. Pius X Grade School in Broomall.

Dr. Stellabotte is married, has 4 children, and resides in Delaware County.